Children Are the Most Pitiful Sufferers From the Cataclysm That Has Ruined a Once Prosperous People.

The Jews in almost every country of the world except America are in a state more dire and terrible, perhaps, than any in which they have found themselves since the fall of Jerusalem. Briefly, the Jewish race in much of Europe is on the verge of annihilation.

The countries in which the plight of the Jews is the worst are Poland, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, Rumania, Serbia, Galicia, Palestine, Turkey, Greece and Siberia. In Vilna, a typical town of Poland, the Jewish population has been cut down by starvation, typhus and other diseases in the last five years from 90,000 to 45,000. Nearly half of the survivors are dependent upon relief supplies sent by their co-religionists in America. Warsaw, Kovno, Constanza, and many other cities throughout Central and Eastern Europe tell the same tale.

American Jews, aroused by the reports that first filtered through after the signing of the armistice, immediately organized under the American Jewish Relief Committee, of 15 East 40th. Street, New York City, to save their race abroad. They sent some 20 commissioners to various foreign countries to investigate the truth of these reports. Almost all these commissioners have now returned and the first-hand information that they have brought back is more alarming than the early unsubstantiated reports. Such men as Nathan Straus, Henry Morgenthau, Julius Rosenwald, Jacob H. Schiff, Felix M. Warburg, and many other prominent members of this committee are now bending every effort to arouse America to the great need abroad and rush the food and supplies across the ocean which, if sent quickly, will save the Jewish race from destruction.

Saddest of the victims of all this woe are the children. Tens of thousands of pitiful youngsters who are seven or eight years old have gone so long undernourished that they are little further developed than normal infants of one or two years. In the Polish cities orphaned children wander about the streets, homeless and unable to get into the orphanages. These are already overcrowded and depend primarily upon American relief funds to keep them going.

WEEKLY GREETING

You can get even with Uncle Sam on the penny war taxes by purchasing War Savings Stamps. For the old boy will have to pay YOU something then—see?—Tyler County Messenger.

Never Earned More than Two Dollars a Day, But Saved $12,500

A dishwasher who died recently at Albany, New York, left an estate valued at $12,500. He never earned more than $12 a week. Now an income of $12 a week, if saved in its entirety would mean about $12,000 in twenty years. Out of $12 a week the dishwasher had to live. But out of that sum he succeeded in saving. He saved steadily, something out of every pay envelope. And the first savings, laid aside in the hard early days when his pay was frequently less than $12 a week, were well invested. Soon they began to earn something of themselves, in interest, for the patient, hard-working plodder.

The dishwasher was no financier. He undoubtedly missed opportunities for investment that would have increased his savings vastly. But he was steady and sure, and he accumulated enough to insure himself against adversity. He had something solid and substantial to show for his years of patient effort. And he was forced to study the investment of his savings carefully to insure their safety.

Today the government has provided the means for enabling every small saver to invest his savings, however small, and to put them at work earning money, at an attractive rate of interest. From the dishwasher up, in the scale of financial ratings, every individual can now place his savings in War Savings Stamps, guaranteed by the government, and earning interest at the rate of 4 per cent compounded quarterly. If the dishwasher had had this opportunity his $12,000 would undoubtedly have grown to a great deal more. Buy War Savings Stamps every pay day.

Restoration of Carmelo Mission Now Actually Under Way

Entire State Interested in Great Undertaking

An auspicious event in the history of this section particulary and of the State of California in general took place last Sunday morn-when, under the direction of Rev. R. M. Mestres, whose plans have the sanction of Bishop J. J. Cantwell, ground was broken for the commencement of the work of restoration of the Carmelo Mission buildings and environs.

In the presence of a distinguished company of Catholics, Protestants and Jews, professional men and women, artists and photographers, the ground-breaking and speech-making proceeded.

The committee in charge of the restoration plans are fortunate to have original diagrams of the old mission building to aid them in the work, and with the cooperation of the State Historical Survey Commission, confidence is felt that a splendid replica of the beloved old Mission, built by the Spanish government when Don Carlos III was on the throne, will be preserved and glorified for the generations to come.

The quadrangle when rebuilt will be used as a museum, and a portion as an inn for travelers, much in the manner as was done in the old mission days and as is yet done in Spain, the land of art and romance, whose history is so intimately welded into that of America.

The tomb of Fr. Serra within the sanctuary will be enhanced by a sarcophagus, over which will be a reclining bronze figure of the saintly padre, first President of the California Missions. The exact location of Serra's cell has been determined by means of the description contained in the archives.

Father Mestres has interested the Marquis de la Vega y Inclan the secretary of the King of Spain, in this movement, and King Alfonso will be asked to donate the sanctuary lamp for the restored mission, former monarchs having donated the vestments and sacred vessels.

It should be remembered that all this work is truly American, and for this reason, if for no other, it is hoped that all who take pride in the preservation of the missions will join the California Mission League.

When restoration is completed Carmelo Mission, originally constructed under the direction of the Franciscan Fathers, will stand out as California's historic pride and will gain the reverent admiration of all.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

MESA VERDE NATIONAL PARK.

IN 1888 there was discovered in Montezuma county, southwestern Colorado, the greatest prehistoric ruins in this country. A thorough examination of the canyon of the Mancos river disclosed the fact that it contained extensive examples of the mysterious remains of an extinct race. Uncle Sam decided to preserve and set aside nearly 50,000 acres as a national park—Mesa (Spanish for high tableland) and Verda (meaning green, from the cedar trees).

Many narrow canyons with high, sheer walls open into the valley. In their sides are many of the best-preserved specimens of cliff dwellings known. A large human population lived in these cave-huts on the sides of these sandstone cliffs. They believed that they were dependent upon the gods to make the rainfall so their crops would grow and worshiped the sun as the father of all and the earth as the mother who brought all material blessings. Apparently they possessed no written language and recorded their thoughts only by means of symbols.

Cliff Palace, the largest dwelling—a community house—had over 200 dwelling rooms, in addition to many sacred rooms called kivas. Sun Temple, a mysterious ruin, shaped like a letter D, is over 120 feet long and 64 feet wide.

As the population of this community increased the floor of the caves was covered with rooms, and finally they emerged from the caves altogether and builded pueblos on top of the mesas in the open country.

A visit to these ruins is much like going back into another world.

Christmas in the Barnyard

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union)

"CHRISTMAS is coming," crowed Mr. Rooster.

"Christmas is coming," gobbled Mr. Turkey.

"Don't be too happy about it, for you may be eaten, Mr. Turkey," said Miss Hen.

And then she clucked. "Christmas is coming."

"Gobble, gobble, gobble," said Mr. Turkey; "you needn't be so sure that you won't be eaten yourself."

"Well, it's the best time of the year to be eaten. It's an honor."

"That's what I've always said," gobbled Mr. Turkey. "Please, Miss Hen, try to be original."

"I may try to be many things," clucked Miss Hen, "but it is impossible for me to try to be original."

"Why?" asked Mr. Turkey, who was much puzzled.

"Because I don't know what it is to be original. I don't know what the word means. How can I be something if I don't even know what that something is? I can't try to be a thing I don't know anything about."

"You could ask what it means, couldn't you?" inquired Mr. Turkey. "Are you too proud for that?"

"You May Be Eaten, Mr. Turkey."

"Not too proud," said Miss Hen, "but I don't ask favors. I like to have them handed to me without the asking. It makes me appear so superior."

"Absurd," said Mr. Turkey.

"Well, if you think so then," said Miss Hen, "I suppose I will have to swallow my pride or my superiority and be friendly at this time of the year. Yes, I will actually ask you. What does it mean to be original?"

"I will tell you," said Mr. Turkey, "but first of all let me say that you cannot swallow your pride nor your superiority. Those are not things to eat.

"You may rise above your pride, but it is impossible to swallow it."

"Now, Mr. Turkey, I may be only a poor hen, but I know a few things. It's a saying and a perfectly good saying when I speak of swallowing my pride. Everyone knows no one means to chew it and swallow it actually. Besides, as far as that is concerned, I might say to you that it was not correct to talk about rising above your pride as though pride were the ground and one took a trip in an airplane above it."

"Let us not quarrel," said Mr. Turkey, "for the joyous Christmas season is fast approaching."

"Yes," mutttered Miss Hen, "and I was fast approaching victory in that argument."

Mr. Turkey pretended he hadn't heard.

"Oh, by the way," he said, after a moment's pause, "you wanted me to tell you what it meant to be original."

"Yes," clucked Miss Hen, while a smile passed over her hen face.

"Well," continued Mr. Turkey, "when a creature is original and says original things it means he is saying things he has thought up himself and hasn't copied from someone else. A person who has original ideas all his own. A creature who says original things, says things no other creature says."

"Everyone Should Give Me Presents."

"You copied me when you said it was an honor to be eaten at Christmas. That was what I have always said."

"Don't be so fussy, Mr. Gobbler," said Miss Hen; "we can't all be original, as you call it. Besides words are words and we all have to use the same ones to be understood, so what difference does it make how we put them together?"

Mr. Turkey walked proudly about, as though some creatures really hadn't enough brains to bother talking to, but soon a great noise was heard.

The pigs were all squealing and grunting.

"It is the time of the year when everyone should give me presents," squealed Pinky Pig.

"Everyone should give me presents. That is what Christmas means," said Porky Pig.

"They should all give them to me," said Brother Bacon, "or you pigs don't know the spirit of Christmas giving."

"You don't know it yourself," said Miss Ham. "Christmas is coming. I'm all ready for presents."

But the other animals sighed and shook their heads.

"Pigs don't even forget they are pigs during the Christmas season!"
